TELEMEDICON 2013

29th Nov - 1st Dec 2013

Mahatma Gandhi University of Medical Sciences & Technology, Sitapur, Jaipur

Invitation

Dear Colleagues,

Greetings to you and your families.

The Organizing Committee of 9th International Telemedicine Conference of Telemedicine Society of India (TELEMEDICON 2013), has been entrusted with the onerous task of organizing the conference at Jaipur, INDIA, from 29 Nov to 01 Dec 2013. The theme for the conference is "Empowering Rural Healthcare through eHealth".

Despite a considerable improvement in our national healthcare infrastructure, a lot needs to be done as regards rural healthcare is concerned. Telemedicine offers great opportunities for underserved and remote areas, where access to basic healthcare is of primary concern. The most significant opportunity that Telemedicine provides is increased access to healthcare. Providing populace with access to healthcare in underserved areas has the potential to help meet previously unmet needs and positively impact existing health services.

We wish to assure you that this conference will be relevant to the prevalent global and Indian eHealthcare scenario as well as being in sync with the Government initiatives. We will also ensure that the Corporate Social Responsibility is well addressed.

The TSI initiative needs to now focus on the end users i.e. the doctors, nursing staff and the paramedics. In view of this we have chosen to host the conference at the Mahatama Gandhi University of Health Sciences to expose the future end users to the deliberations.

Rajasthan is an exotic destination with Jaipur being a coveted tourist destination. The timings are just right to enjoy the famous Rajasthani hospitality with the weather being at its best.

Please do register at the earliest.

See You at JAIPUR!!
